Working Hours Policy:

Working hours mean the amount of time that employers expect employees to work to get paid. According to the Factories Act of 1948, individuals who have completed 21 years of age are required to work for a maximum of 9 hours per week (Saturday & Sunday off)

Working hours policy is a company document that outlines the expectations for employee workhours, including the standard workday, overtime pay, and meal breaks. It is designed to ensure that employees are not overworked or underpaid and that the company complies with all relevant labor laws.

Purpose:

The purpose of this policy is to establish standard office working hours for all employees of Quadrant. This policy aims to promote a consistent and productive work environment for all employees, while also ensuring that employees have a healthy work-life balance.

Scope and Applicability:

This policy applies to all full-time, part-time, and temporary employees of Quadrant.

Office Working Hours Policy :

- Regular office hour: 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM
- Workdays: [Monday – Friday]
- Flexibility: [Yes]

Breaks and meal periods

We understand the importance of breaks and meal periods to maintain employee health and productivity. Our policy ensures that employees have adequate time for breaks and meals.

- Breaks: [10 Min in the Morning and Evening]
- Meal Periods: [45 minutes]

Overtime:

While we value the dedication of our employees, overtime should be managed responsibly. Our policy outlines guidelines for overtime and fair compensation.

- Overtime: The amount of time employees work beyond their standard working hours will be considered overtime. At Quadrant, we acknowledge the hard work of our employees and ensure that they are compensated well for the extra hours they work.
- We are providing Comp-off for the employees who are working on Weekends/Overtime.

Attendance and Punctuality

At Quadrant, we understand the importance of being present and on time to maintain a productive work environment. Consistent attendance and punctuality are key factors that not only contribute to personal success but also to the overall success of our organization.

Attendance Expectations

Regular attendance is vital in fulfilling job duties and making valuable contributions to team initiatives. It is expected that employees inform their immediate supervisor or the HR department in advance regarding any scheduled absences. In the event of unforeseen absences, prompt communication is essential. If an absence lasts longer than 3 days, it should be substantiated by suitable documentation, such as a medical certificate or other relevant evidence.

Punctuality Expectations

Employees are expected to arrive on time for their scheduled work hours. Persistent tardiness may lead to disciplinary action or loss of pay.

Holidays and Leave Policy

Our comprehensive leave policy is designed to support the well-being of our employees while ensuring operational efficiency. By understanding and adhering to these guidelines, both employees and the organization can benefit from a well-balanced and accommodating work environment.

Remote Employees:

All Remote employees will have the same Company Benefits as Work from Office Employees only.
